(RSE) POLICY

RELATIONSHIPS AND SEXUALITY EDUCATION POLICY STATEMENT

St Kieran's College

With a proud tradition as the oldest Catholic all-boys voluntary secondary school in Ireland St Kieran's College is the diocesan school of Ossory and is under the patronage of the Bishop of Ossory. The College was founded in 1782, after the passing of the Relief Act and the college's motto "Hiems Transit" or "Winter Has Passed" is a reference to the repeal of the penal laws of the time.

St Kieran's College Mission Statement

St Kieran's College, as Ireland's oldest all-boys Catholic Secondary School, continues its founding aim of the pursuit of real excellence in education and formation, in the light of the Gospel, so as to allow all our students to realise the fullness of their potential.

Academically, spiritually, physically and emotionally our students are encouraged to strive for all that is possible in the relentless pursuit of perfecting their individual gifts and talents.

In so doing they bring to life the joy intended by our motto, "Hiems Transiit", for themselves, those they love and the community where they will live, serve and lead.

The RSE programme aims to enhance the development of the school's mission through its content and structure.

Our School Philosophy

The school encourages its students to consider and assess different viewpoints in relation to issues of morality. The experience gained through the working out of this policy and through respecting the needs of minority groups and individuals enriches the whole life of the school.

The school gives its students the opportunity to explore the humanities, sciences, arts, business studies and technical subject. In addition it provides religious, moral and physical education in order to meet its founding objectives of supporting students in achieving their full academic potential and preparing them for participation in civic society and working life.

A code of conduct has been published after consultation with parents, staff and students and the following excerpts illustrate how the ethos of the school operates on a daily basis:

Discipline is founded on the principles of respect for people, environment, property and safety. All rules follow from these basic principles which are intended to create and maintain a happy and stable community.

The aims of the Code of Behaviour are:

- To develop a moral framework within which initiative, responsibility and sound relationships can flourish.
- To enable students to develop a sense of self worth and a respect and tolerance for others
- To produce an environment in which students feel safe, secure, valued and respected.

Rationale for a Relationships and Sexuality Education Policy

Sexuality is a key element of healthy social and personal development. Young people are exposed to a bewildering variety of messages about sexuality and sexual activity. Schools in consultation with parents / guardians, need to reflect on how to provide for the needs of the students.

- The Education Act 1998 requires that schools should promote the social and personal development of students and provide health education for them, in consultation with them, having regard to the characteristic spirit of the school.
- Section 4 of the Rules and Programme for Secondary Schools requires schools to have an agreed policy for RSE and a suitable RSE programme in place for all students at both junior and senior cycle. At junior cycle, the RSE programme is part of SPHE. At Senior Cycle (including TY), the RSE programme is incorporated into Religious Education class time. It is taught as a separate and distinct module from Religious Education.

- The Children First Act, 2017 requires schools to have an agreed policy to raise awareness of child abuse and neglect. This is covered in RSE provision.
- Circulars M4/95, M20/96, M11/03, M27/2008 and 0037/2010 require schools to develop a Relationships and Sexuality Education (RSE) policy and programme, and to implement them for all students from First Year to Sixth Year.
- Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post-Primary Schools (revised 2023)
- The effectiveness of an RSE programme is dependent on a collaborative policy process involving teachers, parents / guardians, members of the Board of Management and students.

Scope

The policy will apply to all aspects of teaching and learning about relationships and sexuality. Discussion about relationships and sexuality also takes place in classes other than SPHE / RSE; it is therefore important that all teachers are familiar with the RSE policy. Furthermore, the policy will apply to school staff, students, board of management, parents / guardians, visiting speakers and external facilitators.

Definition of Relationship and Sexuality Education (RSE)

RSE is a lifelong process of acquiring knowledge, understanding and skills which enable us to develop attitudes, beliefs and values about sexual identity, relationships and intimacy. Sexuality is a key element of healthy social and personal development in all our lives, but particularly important in the life of the adolescent.

At post primary level RSE aims to provide “young people with information and skills to critically evaluate the wide range of information, opinions, values and attitudes offered today, and so make positive, responsible choices about themselves and the way they live their lives.” (RSE Policy Guidelines, 1997)

As a Catholic school, we wish to support parents/guardians in this important aspect of their child’s education and preparation for life. In keeping with our mission, therefore we believe we have a complimentary role in preparing young people for their place in society.

RSE class will provide structured opportunities for students to gain knowledge and understanding of human relationships and sexuality through processes which will enable them to form values and establish behaviours within a moral, spiritual and social framework.

In the school setting it is an integral part of general educational provision, which seeks to promote the overall development of the person which includes the integration of sexuality into personal understanding, growth and development.

The Relationship of RSE to SPHE

Relationships and Sexuality Education is a developmental process through experiential learning in which students are helped to cultivate a healthy attitude towards themselves and others especially in the area of relationships and sexuality. In St Kieran’s College we aim to give students information and skills to evaluate the wide range of information, opinion, attitudes and values offered today, in order that they will make positive, responsible choices about themselves and the way they live their lives. The programme provides opportunities to discuss issues relating to relationships and sexuality in ways that help them to think and to act in a moral, caring and responsible way.

It forms part of the SPHE programme and as such it promotes a healthy attitude to sexuality in themselves and in others. The SPHE programme includes a wide range of topics such as self-esteem, self-identity, assertiveness, motivation, effective communication, decision-making skills, bullying, healthy eating, hygiene and safety. All of these contribute to the effectiveness of the RSE programme.

The Aims of our Relationships and Sexuality Education Programme

The RSE programme aims to give students the skills and competencies to learn about themselves and others to make informed decisions about their health and social relationships. Ultimately, St Kieran's College envisions that the RSE programme will enable students to participate in society as responsible adults who make decisions which respect the dignity of others and of themselves.

Relationships and Sexuality Education which is located in the overall framework of SPHE has as its specific aims:

- To help students to understand and develop friendships and relationships.
- To promote a healthy understanding of sexuality.
- To promote a positive attitude to one's own sexuality and in one's sexuality with others. This will aid the development of personal wellbeing and enhance relationships with others.
- To promote knowledge of and respect for reproduction.
- To enable students to develop healthy attitudes and values towards their sexuality, in a moral, spiritual and social framework in keeping with our school ethos.
- To provide opportunities for students to learn about relationships and sexuality in ways that helps them to think and behave in a moral, caring and responsible way.
- To foster self-esteem, self-respect and a positive sexual identity.
- To provide a programme, curricular and extra-curricular, which develops the whole person.
- It is acknowledged that in a course of limited duration these aims are aspirational.

The Objectives of our RSE Programme

The RSE Programme in St Kieran's College should enable students to:

- Acquire the understanding and skills necessary to form healthy friendships and relationships.
- Develop a positive sense of self-awareness and the skills for building and maintaining self-esteem.
- Become aware of the variety of ways in which individuals change and grow, especially during adolescence and to develop respect for difference between individuals.
- Understand human physiology with particular reference to the reproductive cycle, human fertility and sexual activity and associated health consequences.
- Understand sexual development and identity and explore aspects of sexuality including sex roles, stereotyping, gender issues and cultural influences on sexuality.
- Develop a Christian value system encompassing respect, responsibility, co-operation, honesty and fairness. Value family life and appreciate the responsibilities of parenthood.
- Develop strategies for decisions and actions consistent with personal moral integrity and be respectful of the rights and dignity of others.
- Develop skills for coping with peer pressure, conflicts and threats to personal safety.

What is Provided in the Programme

In the broadest sense RSE is a whole school responsibility and all members of the school community share responsibility for modelling relationships that are characterised by justice and respect. At a more formal level, RSE is dealt with in the context of certain subjects; Science, Biology, Guidance Counselling, P.E., CSPE, Religious Education and population demographic / social studies within the Geography syllabus. However, to ensure an adequate response to the needs of all students, specific provision for RSE is made within the Social, Personal and Health Education programme, to which one class period is apportioned each week for Junior Cycle students. During Transition Year, six separate class periods are allocated to RSE during the SPHE programme. At Senior cycle, one class period per week for six weeks is timetabled for RSE in both fifth and sixth year. The content of RSE at post primary level is described under three themes:

- 1. Human Growth and Development: This theme consists of an age appropriate understanding of the biology and psychology of the human life cycle. This is accompanied by a rationale for responsible behaviour in relationships and sexuality.

2. Human Sexuality: Sexuality is an integral part of the human personality and has biological, psychological, cultural, social and spiritual dimensions. The theme offers opportunities to develop a holistic understanding of sexuality as contributing to the development of personal well being, enhancing personal and family relationships and ultimately contributing to the well being of society.
3. Human Relationships: This theme focuses on the importance of relationships for health and well-being. It examines how one relates to self and others, stressing the importance of self-esteem as a basis for worthwhile friendships and relationships. It addresses issues such as communication, influence, intimacy, sexual attraction and sexual expression in relationships consistent with personal and moral integrity. These themes are neither sequential nor discrete; they merge and overlap with each other. Teaching strategies should reflect this relationship.

See Appendix 1 for a full list of the topics covered within each of the three above themes.

Timetable Provision

The RSE programme as taught in our school is the programme laid out by the NCCA. The content is delivered in six class periods per year as follows:

- First, Second, Third and Transition year students have RSE as an integral part of the SPHE programme which is timetabled for one class period per week for six weeks.
- Fifth and Sixth Year students have RSE as a separate and distinct module from Religious Education timetabled during the Religious Education/RSE class for one class period per week for six weeks.

Whole School Provision of RSE (Holistic Approach)

- The school encourages parents / guardians to ensure that students participate in this programme as a way of supporting parents as the primary educators of their children.
- Religious Education programme which discusses relationships, adolescence, responsibility, values, peer pressure, conflict and decision-making.
- Student centred pastoral care structure supports include Year Heads, Class Tutors, guidance and Counselling, Pastoral Care Team, Learning Support, Student Council, Principal and Deputy Principals.
- The Pastoral Care Team are fully aware of the circumstances which may make children more vulnerable to harm. These include Parent/Carer factors, child factors, community factors, environment factors and poor motivation of parents/guardians to engage.
- Possibility of one-to-one conversations with the school Guidance Counsellors and Chaplain.
- Anti-bullying strategy and programme of prevention emphasising respect for the rights and dignity of others.
- Education of human physiology and human reproduction – Science, Biology Religion (Senior Cycle) and SPHE (1st to TY) classes.
- Visits by speakers on topics such as drugs and alcohol misuse, sexual maturity, hygiene and sexual health.
- Awareness of human rights through Social Justice Programmes and fundraising projects for various charities.
- Ongoing Mental Well Being initiatives particularly highlighted in a dynamic Mental Well Being week.

Guidelines for the Management and Organisation of RSE in our School

All education partners are consulted before ratifying school policy and programmes, i.e. staff, Board of Management, parents / guardians, and students through The Student Council.

Arrangements for the teaching programme and the deployment of staff will be made by the Principal.

Staff are encouraged to attend training and in-service in relation to RSE. The SPHE and Wellbeing co-ordinator works with RSE Teachers to promote and develop a programme to meet the emerging needs of our students.

1. Informing and Involving Parents: Informing and involving parents will take place with the understanding that parents are the primary educators of their children and their role in this is seen by the school as very important. Relevant sections of the RSE policy will be included in the school's communications with the parents of Junior Cycle pupils and with the parents of Leaving Certificate pupils as appropriate with regard to outside speakers. Information will also be shared via the Parents'

Association and through the parent representation on the Board of Management. All views expressed by parents will be taken into account when reviewing the policy.

It is our hope that all students will avail of the RSE programme provided by the school. We understand however that at times parents may wish to withdraw their sons from particular aspects of the RSE programme because of perceived conflict with their own values and beliefs; the school respects this parental right but will engage with parents with a view to resolving any perceived difficulties. Parents / guardians are not obliged to give a reason for withdrawal but we respectfully ask for one so that we might help resolve misunderstandings. If students are withdrawn arrangements will be made where possible between parents and management for their care while the programme is in progress.

See Appendix 2 for procedures dealing with requests for withdrawal from RSE.

2. Confidentiality: While students should not be encouraged to disclose personal or private information in SPHE / RSE classes, there may be times when they do talk about their own lives. Confidentiality will be respected unless a mandated person becomes aware that a child is at risk, in which case the appropriate action will be taken. It is school policy that in circumstances where a student is considered at some risk of any type of abuse or in breach of the law, the mandated person (eg class teacher) must refer this immediately to the Principal as the Designated Liaison Person. The mandated person, in consultation with the DLP should always inform Tusla if they have reasonable grounds for concern that a child may have been, is being, or is at risk of being abused or neglected. Mandated persons must act in accordance with Child Protection Procedures outlined in the Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post-Primary Schools 2017 which came about arising from the enactment of the Children First Act 2015. The following is also school policy:

- Mandated persons must not promise absolute confidentiality;
- Students must be made aware that any incident may be conveyed to the Principal and possibly to parents if the Principal and/or the mandated person decides that it is in the best interests of the student to notify parents;
- Mandated persons must use their professional judgement to decide whether confidentiality can be maintained having heard the information;
- Mandated persons must indicate clearly to students when the content of a conversation can no longer be kept confidential – the student can then decide whether to proceed or not.
- The Child Protection Procedures also state that if the school becomes aware that a young person is sexually active under the age of consent it has a responsibility to inform her parents. The legal age of consent in Ireland is 17 for boys and girls for heterosexual and for homosexual sex.

The role of the RSE Teacher

The relationship between teacher and student is a core aspect of successful learning in all areas of education but this is especially true in RSE, given the personal nature of the subject. Students respond positively to teachers who show authenticity and empathy and who are willing to listen to and respect their views. At the same time the teacher must be able to set limits and boundaries. The following points should be considered by teachers of RSE:

- Ongoing professional development and training for all teachers of RSE/SPHE will support the effective delivery of RSE.
- Teachers assigned to teach RSE/SPHE must have an understanding with the range of active and experiential methodologies associated with education in this area.
- All teachers of RSE at Senior Cycle should inform themselves about the previous learning of students at Junior Cycle in RSE/SPHE and to what extent students are familiar with participative methodologies. If this is a new way of working for a group, participative methodologies should be introduced gradually and carefully.
- Teachers must be familiar with their school's RSE policy, particularly with regard to some of the sensitive moral issues that may arise in a RSE class. A school does not have a right to omit any aspect of RSE. It is the responsibility of the RSE teacher to articulate the values expressed in the school's RSE policy in a way that is respectful to all. This can be done while also allowing students to express their views and opinions in a respectful way.

- The teacher is responsible for ensuring that the classroom is a safe environment for students. A way of fostering this climate from the beginning is to help students to establish ground rules for working together as a group.
- Teachers should be sensitive to the needs of students of all sexual orientations and gender identities.
- It may be necessary to set boundaries for students in terms of what can be discussed and what questions can be answered in an RSE class.
- Given the sensitivity of many of the topics in RSE teachers should be aware of the range of pastoral and counselling supports available within the school and outside school.

See Appendix 3 for an extract from the relevant section of the Child Protection Procedures for Primary and Post Primary Schools 2017 P 24.

- 3. Sexual Abuse: It should be remembered that sexual activity involving a young person may be sexual abuse even if the young person concerned does not themselves recognise it as abusive. A full list of relevant offences the child which are considered sexual abuse - See Appendix 4.
- 4. Explicit Questions: It may not be appropriate to deal with some explicit questions in class. Teachers may choose to say that it is not appropriate to deal with that question at this time. If a teacher becomes concerned about a matter that has been raised he / she should seek advice from the SPHE co-ordinator or the Principal. When deciding whether or not to answer questions the teacher should consider the age and readiness of the students, the RSE programme content, the ethos of the school and the RSE policy.
- 5. Visiting Speakers: It is school policy that most of the RSE programme is best discussed openly with teachers who are known and trusted by the students. However visitors can enhance the quality of the provision as long as they are used in addition to, not instead of, a planned programme of RSE.

In keeping with Children First: National Guidance for the Protection and Welfare of Children, all visiting speakers and facilitators to the school with unsupervised access to students will have Garda clearance. The SPHE co-ordinator will provide the visitor, well in advance of the visit with a copy of the RSE policy. The organiser makes the visitor aware of the ethos of the school and the manner of delivery of the RSE programme. Visiting speakers will be made aware of the school's ethos and will agree to work within those parameters. Visitors should be given advance notice of the composition of the class and an idea of how their contribution fits into the scheme of work. In order to inform the visitor of the precise requirements of a group and to make better use of the time of the visitor it is advisable for the group to draw up questions in advance and these should be forwarded to the visitor. This will involve the students in the visit and will make the experience more relevant for them – it also facilitates planning.

- 6. Sensitive Issues: From time to time some issues within the RSE programme may present as particularly sensitive for some students. Every effort will be made by staff to become aware of the profile of the group in advance of the delivery of the programme and out Guidance and Counselling services or external counselling will be offered where necessary.
- 7. LGBTQ+: Lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBTI+) young people follow the same developmental challenges and pathways as those of their heterosexual peers. Additionally LGBTI+ students may have to cope with negative attitudes, discrimination and harassment directed towards LGBTI+ people. St Kieran's College, Kilkenny aims to ensure a positive school climate and culture where difference is welcomed. An LGBTI+ young person may wish to seek support or come out during their time in secondary school. A positive school climate and culture will provide an appropriate environment of support where an LGBTI+ person may choose to come out. RSE classes will promote this climate in all lessons and class discussions, thereby giving all students the educational support required while facing the challenges of adolescence.

The Equal Status Act 2000 to 2015 is the key piece of legislation protecting young people in school who are LGBTI+. The main provisions of the Act aim to:

- Promote equality of opportunity
- Prohibit discrimination on nine specific grounds (gender, marital status, sexual orientation, religion, age, race, membership of the Traveller community and disability)
- Prohibit harassment on these grounds and to prohibit sexual harassment.
- Require reasonable accommodation of people with disabilities.
- Allow for positive action.

St Kieran's College, Kilkenny is mindful of the above in all aspects of school life and in policy formation and implementation.

- 8. Additional Educational Needs: Students with additional educational needs may require more help than others in coping with the physical and emotional aspects of growing up. They may also require more support in learning what sorts of behaviour are and are not acceptable and in being warned and prepared against abuse by others. If learning activities are to be meaningful and achievable for all students, it is important that differentiated approaches and methodologies are used. Additional teaching and support in this regard may be delivered by the student's SEN teacher in consultation with the RSE teacher and as part of an overall Individual Learning Plan. It is the responsibility of the class teacher to familiarise themselves with the educational needs of the student.
- 9. The Division between Biological and Non-Biological Aspects of Sex Education: The school policy is that the Science Department deals primarily with the biological aspects of reproduction but within the teaching of RSE biological terms will be used and there may be a cross-over of content within both areas. This may provide an opportunity for cross-curricular co-operation and team teaching.
- 10. Consult Regularly with Students and the RSE team to ensure that the teaching is relevant to the students RSE needs. The SPHE and RE co-ordinators have regular conversations to ensure that students have adequate and relevant RSE education incorporated into each school year.

Ongoing Support, Development and Review

Training: All teachers involved in this work do not necessarily have to be 'experts' on the issues concerned. However, they do require sensitivity to the needs of the group, an ability to deal with questions openly / honestly and a preparedness to refer to more expert advice if necessary. The skills acquired in general teaching apply also to health education. Furthermore, many teachers may have training in related areas such as counselling. Some teachers have expert training in the specific areas of health, relationships and sexuality education and will be encouraged to train other teachers. We maintain an updated record of In-Service courses attended by staff. All SPHE staff are encouraged to register with the SPHE website (www.sphe.ie) for In-Service. Where possible, staff will be given opportunities to attend further professional development courses. Information received at In-Service will be made available to all relevant teachers through subject department meetings at the beginning of the academic year.

The SPHE team meets many times a year for subject planning and information sharing. At these meetings the SPHE coordinator will update staff in relation to In-Service training available and updates relating to the curriculum etc and to complete a review at the end of the academic year.

Resources: The school will purchase appropriate RSE teaching materials which have been identified by staff as useful and which have been approved by the Principal, within the normal budgetary framework and as general school resources allow.

Monitoring, Evaluating and Reviewing the RSE programme

The policy will be reviewed and evaluated at certain pre-determined times under the direction of the Board of Management. Ongoing review and evaluation will take cognisance of changing information, guidelines, legislation and feedback from parents / guardians, students, teachers and others. The SPHE and RE coordinators will have the role of monitoring aspects of the policy. The policy will be revised as necessary in the light of such review and evaluation and within the framework of school planning.

To review and evaluate the policy, it will be necessary to gauge the impact and effectiveness of the policy by examining the extent to which:

- RSE is being successfully taught through SPHE for all students up to TY and Senior Cycle RE;
- Where SPHE may not be timetabled, e.g. at Senior Cycle, that these students are receiving RSE distinctly during Religious Education times;
- Resource materials are available to teachers;
- Appropriate in-service for teachers is available and relevant teachers are availing of it;
- Staff are aware of the policy;
- Students are aware of the policy;
- Parents / guardians are aware of the policy;
- Feedback is received from teachers, other school staff, students, parents / guardians, members of Board of Management and Trustees.

APPENDIX 2

If a request for withdrawal from the RSE programme is made by a parent:

- 1. We discuss the nature of the concerns with the student's parent and if appropriate attempts to reassure them (initially such discussion take place at a meeting with the Year Head and RSE Co-ordinator, the Principal may become involved if necessary).
- 2. We consider whether the programme can be amended or improved in a way that will reassure parents – care is taken not to undermine the integrity of the RSE programme and the entitlement of the other students.
- 3. We attempt to ensure that where a pupil is withdrawn there is no disruption to other parts of their education.
- 4. We point out that students who have been withdrawn are vulnerable to teasing – we therefore attempt to cause minimal embarrassment to the student and minimal disruption to the programme.
- 5. We also point out that students may receive inaccurate information from their peers.
- 6. We offer the parents access to appropriate information and resources.

APPENDIX 3

Chapter 4: Statutory obligations on Registered Teachers 4.1 Purpose

4.1.1 The Children First Act, 2015 has placed a statutory obligation on specific people to report child protection concerns that are at or above a threshold of harm (as defined in that Act) to Tusla. Such persons are referred to as “mandated persons” under the Act. All teachers who are registered with the Teaching Council are mandated persons under the Children First Act, 2015.

4.1.2 This chapter applies to all registered teachers working in schools, including the DLP and the deputy DLP. It outlines the statutory obligations that now apply to all registered teachers under the Children First Act, 2015.

4.2 Specific responsibilities of registered teachers

4.2.1 In accordance with the best practice (non-statutory) requirement of the Children First National Guidance 2017, these procedures continue the previous requirement that any member of school personnel including a registered teacher who receives an allegation or has a suspicion that a child may have been, is being, or is at risk of being abused or neglected, is still required to report the matter, without delay, to the DLP in the school.

Every registered teacher, as a mandated person, now also has a statutory obligation to make his or her own mandated report to Tusla where the concern about the child is at or above a threshold of harm as defined in the Act. Therefore in addition to reporting his or her concern to the DLP, a registered teacher must also consider whether or not the concern is at or above the defined threshold of harm at which the registered teacher has his or her own statutory obligation under the Children First Act, 2015 to submit a mandated report to Tusla.

Chapter 5 of these procedures requires that the registered teacher shall liaise with the DLP in relation to determining if the concern in question is at or above the defined threshold of harm at which the registered teacher must submit a mandated report. Chapter 5 also requires that the registered teacher shall follow the relevant reporting procedures set out in section 5.2, including, where applicable, those requiring the registered teacher to submit a mandated report jointly with the DLP.
